Exchange Rate Movements and Their Impact on Trade and Investment in the Apec Region (Occasional Paper (International Monetary Fund)) By Peter Isard, Steven Symansky, Tamim Bayoumi

The 18 members of the Asia-Pacific Economic Co-operation Council (APEC) encompass both a wide geographic area and extensive differences in stages of economic development. At the same time the APEC region has experienced a dynamic process of economic development over the past decade, driven to a considerable degree by trade liberalization and economic reforms. The wide ranging levels of economic development and rapid rates of growth make the region an attractive sample on which to base a study of medium to long-term movements in real exchange rates and the impact of exchange rate changes on trade and investment.
